We noted last week the gift of £25,000 of Mr. William Johnston to University College, Liverpool. We learn from The British Medical Journal that the £25,000 is divided as follows: £10,000 is allocated to found a chair of chemical biology, £6,000 at 5 per cent. interest to permanently endow three research fellowships of £100 a year each. Of these fellows ships one is to be held by a medical graduate of a colonial university, a second by a graduate of medicine of the United States, and a third by a research student in gynæcology. The remaining £9,000 is to be spent in building a laboratory adjoining the Thompson-Yates laboratories, to accommodate the Tropical School, the professor of chemical biology, experimental medicine, comparative pathology, and serum research departments.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER has offered to give $25,000 to the endowment fund of William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., provided $75,000 additional is raised by January 1, 1903.

THE corner stone of the science and administration building of Colorado College has been laid. The building, to cost $225,000, will be three stories high, 287 feet long and 95 feet wide, the material being sandstone. A natural history museum will be installed in the building, with laboratories for scientific instruction.

The Laboratory of Chemistry and Metallurgy, at Lafayette College, the gift of Mr. James Gayley of the class of '76, will be dedicated on April 5.
